

VBTC

VanEck Bitcoin ETF

Fund Description

VBTC gives investors exposure to the price of Bitcoin before fees and other costs.

An investment in the fund involves extremely high risk and the potential for loss of all capital invested. Investors should actively monitor their investment as frequently as daily to ensure it continues to meet their investment objectives. Risks associated with an invest in the fund include those associated with pricing risk, regulatory risk, custody risk, immutability risk, ASX trading time risk, concentration risk, environmental risk, currency risk, operational risk, underlying fund risk and forking risk. See the VanEck Bitcoin ETF PDS and TMD for details.
